SAP warehouse management is able to process all transactions that are carried in the warehouse including the goods receipts, issues and any stock transfers. SAP WM manages inventory at the storage bin level making it less hectic and more manageable. What to consider before deploying the SAP warehouse management system.

What is SAP

Warehouse

Management (WM Module)

When you implement the Warehouse Management System (WMS), you manage goods movements and stock changes in the warehouse at storage bin level. However, if you implement Lean WM , inventory management takes place solely at storage location level. The
